Ranj Singh and the Discriminators

In the mid 80's, Ranj started his career performing with many folk-Punjabi and Hindi artists in the Vancouver area. In the 90's he helped form — along with his talented brothers — the group “Dal Dil Vog” (a.k.a. DDV). This group went on to win numerous awards and performed with artists such as Jan Arden, 54-40, Mathew Good, and also performed live on Much Music. Raised in western Canada,

Ranj has added a small taste of his roots from India to his western upbringing and created a fresh new sound. <http://www.ranjsingh.com/>

The Kerplunks JUNO Award Nominees

The Kerplunks are award winning children's entertainers bringing high-energy, colourful performances to the stage - and outfits that match! As a group they are committed to educating children through musical creativity. When they start playing, the kids are soon dancing and following along with the actions. Dinah's D Contraband Swingclub

Dinah D's Contraband Swingclub was formed to fulfill the desire of dancers to swingdance to a live band! This 6 piece dynamo band has certainly fulfilled all expectations!! Packing pubs and dancehalls, they have not only been well received- but encouraged to make a live recording- So dancers could take a piece of their energy home!!

Swingclub's musicians are gathered from nooks and crannies around Vancouver and Vancouver Island. Five of the Swingclub members are excellent singers- this combined with Dinah D's songwriting makes a really hot live band with 5 front people!

Sweetpea Swing Band

The Sweetpea Swing Band performs their own unique brand of traditional jazz in and around Vancouver. The band repertoire contains a lively collage of hot jazz music dating back as far as 1916. Although the band's music is firmly rooted in traditional jazz, The Sweetpea Swing Band presents their music in a hip, modern style that continues to incite audiences into a dancing frenzy.
